Subject: Re: WGNU online article

Thanks for the clarification, Burt. Just so you know, the article I wrote for our blog isn't slated for publication in the print paper. If you'd like I could run a clarification on the blog. The story currently reads that none of the weekday shows will be retained. It doesn't state that none of the hosts will be retained. But again, if you feel this is confusing, I can run a clarification. BTW: I thought the format change was going to roll out over the next couple weeks. The day after we spoke the station was already playing Christian music and all the regularly scheduled shows were gone.

YES, a clarification is in order.
the music format is in place.
the evening 'talk' hosts will require a couple of weeks to get lined up.
thanks
Burt
